PSA obtains Red Carpet Inn for new convenience center

By MIKE WILLIAMS
The Patriot

The Pulaski County Public Service Authority has purchased the old Red Carpet Inn property on Old Route 100 outside Pulaski for the site of its newest convenience center.

Jared Linkous, Executive Director of the PSA announced the move Monday night during the February meeting of the Pulaski County Board of Supervisors.

The old motel will be demolished by county crews and the site will be transformed into the PSA's third convenience center.

Linkous explained that the PSA has for some time operated three convenience centers spread across the county (Dublin, Fairlawn and Pulaski on Dora Highway).

At the start of the year, when the Town of Pulaski went in a new direction for garbage pickup, the PSA lost the Pulaski center on Dora Highway, and Linkous said a search has been ongoing to find a way to "plug that gap" in convenience center service.

That search led the PSA to purchase the old Red Carpet Inn site just off Routes 99 and 100 outside the Town of Pulaski.

He said the PSA has been in the process of cleaning that site up and is having lead and asbestos tested to determine if they will need to do an asbestos abatement process or go straight into the tear down.

He said if an abatement process is required after testing, a third party will be brought in for that work before demolition begins.

"It's exciting news to share," Linkous said, noting how the Red Carpet Inn site has fallen into disrepair in the last several years.

Linkous said in the 12 years he has been with the county the property has changed hands three times.

He explained the motel historically has operated its own sewage treatment system, discharging into a small stream near the site. He said each time the property has changed hands, the discharge limits have changed resulting in the motel no longer being able to operate its treatment system.

He noted that area does not have county sewer available.

"People buy this property at auction, then find out they don't have sewer service there and then it goes into a period of just sitting there, with lost revenue on the tax side, then they sell it again. That's gone on two or three times now," Linkous said.

He explained the PSA, five or six years ago, had received two allocations of a half-million dollars for improvements to the Fairlawn and Pulaski convenience centers to make those sites resemble the Dublin center.

"The Dublin Convenience Center is the PSA's goal for what our convenience centers should look like," Linkous said. "We have high expectations for what the convenience centers will look like in our community and for them to really serve our community much better."

Linkous said about half the residents on the south side of Claytor Lake will be able to more easily access the convenience center at Red Carpet Inn after crossing the Lighthouse Bridge.

"We're excited about it. We think it's a great opportunity. We think it serves many purposes for the community. It takes a building that has been deemed by our building officials and code department as an unsafe structure. It has been boarded up once by the county, and we were faced with a situation in which that was going to have to be done again,” Linkous said.

Like the centers in Dublin and Fairlawn, the new one on Old Route 100 will be available for PSA customers to bring their large items and brush.

The PSA is developing a new bar code system, which will allow only PSA customers access to the sites. The bar code will be on PSA customers’ bill.

Linkous said the convenience centers are funded totally by the PSA’s residential customers.

Everything. With its debut album, Little Texas burst onto the scene with songs written, recorded, and performed exclusively by the members themselves, quickly becoming one of the top vocal bands of the decade. Thousands of shows and eight albums later (with over 7 million units sold) and celebrating the 30th year of its debut appearance on the country music charts, it's easy to understand why the group earned the moniker “Hardest Working Band in Country Music.” During its heyday, Little Texas racked up 12 Top 20 singles (with seven Top 10s and three consecutive No. 1s in a 12-month period) and received multiple Grammy, CMA and ACM nominations, winning the ACM for Top Vocal Group of 1993. To date, band members have continued to write or co-write, record, and play every note on every single they’ve released. Since that time, Little Texas has continued to tour constantly and released an independent studio album in 2015, Young for a Long Time. The group currently consists of original band members Porter Howell (lead guitar and lead vocals), Dwayne O’Brien (rhythm guitar and vocals), Duane Propes (bass and vocals), and drummer Del Gray.

NRCC is a Crooked Road, Virginia’s Heritage Music Trail, affiliated venue. Doors will open for the show at 6:30 p.m. For more information, visit www.nr.edu/concerts. Questions may be directed to Tim Jones at 540-674-3625.

Stafford issues statement on his budget work participation

Chris Stafford, Cloyd District representative on the Pulaski County Board of Supervisors, last Friday issued a statement concerning his participation in budget work to be conducted by the board this spring.

In his statement, he also announces his plans to hold community meetings in the district during March and April.

His statement:

Throughout last year’s campaign for Pulaski County Board of Supervisors and during my time in office, I have pledged to the citizens of the Cloyd District that I would represent them with openness, honesty, and above all, integrity.

In that spirit and as the Board of Supervisors is about to begin its budget process, I voluntarily sought an advisory opinion from Pulaski County Commonwealth’s Attorney Justin Griffith to provide guidance on my involvement as it relates to the 2023-2024 county budget.

I have been fully aware that my employment with Pulaski County Public Schools would affect my involvement in the upcoming budget process, as it relates to school funding, until my retirement from the school system which will be effective June 30, 2023.

Based on my analysis, and it also being fully consistent with Mr. Griffith’s advisory opinion, my role in the county’s 2023-2024 budget process shall be as follows:

1. I will not participate in Board of Supervisors discussions and activities that solely involve school funding requests while I remain an employee of the school board.
2. I will participate in Board of Supervisors budget discussions and activities involving all non-school budget related matters without exception.

3. I will participate in Board of Supervisors discussions and activities involving school budget related matters when such discussions and activities also include at least two additional entities (or the overall county budget) and that I will make all required disclosures concerning my employment prior to each such discussion and/or activity.

If you have any questions or wish to receive a copy of Mr. Griffith’s advisory opinion, please contact me or the Office of the Commonwealth’s Attorney.

Also, I wish to announce that in March and April 2023, I will be holding community meetings in the Cloyd District. The schedule with dates, times, and locations will be available soon. I look forward to meeting with citizens in person and discussing your ideas and concerns about the Cloyd District and Pulaski County.

If you have any questions or if I may assist you in any way, please contact me at estafford@pulaski-county.org or (540) 250-1407.

Montgomery’s service recalled by county

By MIKE WILLIAMS
The Patriot

During Monday night’s meeting of the Pulaski County Board of Supervisors – in honor of Black History Month - County Administrator Jonathan Sweet made a presentation on the life and works of Mary Sue Montgomery (1894-1967).

In 1954, Sweet said, Montgomery erected a nursing home at 147 Magazine Street in Pulaski to serve the needs of the elderly and indigent of both races during the Jim Crow era.

Sweet read that Montgomery traveled to New York City to appear on “Strike it Rich,” a game show that was broadcast on American radio and television.

Participants on the show answered four questions in an effort to win money for someone in need of medical treatment or some other need.

Montgomery competed on the nationwide program in an effort to raise funds to keep her nursing home open.

“She answered all the questions asked during the show and received $170,” Sweet read. “She used the money to erect the steel for the first floor of a new cinderblock home that at the time was being built next to the existing home.

Montgomery was also honored as Pulaski’s Woman of the Year by the Business and Professional

Mary Sue Montgomery

Woman’s Club, Sweet added.

In announcing Ms. Montgomery’s award, Mrs. George T. Carnahan – who won the award in 1952 – called Montgomery’s work with her nursing home “a true monument of faith and love the county should be proud of.”

In accepting her award, Montgomery said, “The people of Pulaski County are the most wonderful people on the face of the earth. They are the salt of the earth.”

Sweet noted that Montgomery passed away in 1967 at her nursing home.

“She will be forever remembered as a beacon of service in Pulaski County,” Sweet added.

with walnuts. The next time you look at a walnut, study what it resembles.

If you are thinking a “brain” you are right. Walnuts are bursting with omega-3 fatty acids – which are known to fight inflammation in the brain and may also help boost our memories.

Other great sources of omega-3 fats include flaxseed, avocado, and chia seeds. Be sure to include salmon, cod, tuna and pollack to the list as well; these fish are also low in mercury compared to other seafood sources.

Green tea has a highly respected reputation for positively influencing our health. According to the Phytomedicine international journal, green tea has been found to lift moods and decrease anxiety.

It also may improve memory function and support the length of attention span. These perks were found in those who drank brewed green tea. If you aren’t an admirer of green tea quite yet, not to worry because many of these protective benefits were also found in coffee beans.

Hello morning coffee! Another food that has wonderful, and defensive properties for our brain health are berries.

Blueberries, specifically, are packed full of antioxidants that act almost like a personal army protecting all parts of our brains, helping to keep us mentally sharp.

Cherries, raspberries, strawberries and blackcurrants also have these shielding properties, so be sure to pick your favorite and enjoy daily, if possible. As we enter the winter season, berries are not as plentiful as they are in the spring and summer months. Frozen berries offer the same nutrients and nourishing perks as the fresh varieties, and you can stock up if they are on sale.

Bottom line is that the foods we eat can have a very protective benefit on the brain, so snack well to nurture from the inside-out.

Legislation I Have Filed So Far

I have hit the ground running in the new legislative session of Congress and will review a part of my agenda today. Obviously, over the two years of this Congress I will introduce more bills to best represent the people of the 9th Congressional District.

2nd Amendment

Last month, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) finalized a rule to expand the definition of “short-barreled rifles”, or barrels of less than 16 inches, to include any and every pistol that has an arm brace affixed to it. This arbitrary definition unfairly penalizes

Morgan Griffith

9th District Representative

competitive shooters and pistol enthusiasts generally. To counteract this invasive final rule, I have introduced the Home Defense and Competitive Shooting Act, H.R.173, to remove all short-barreled rifle registration requirements under the National Firearms Act (NFA) of 1934.

I have also introduced legislation, H.R.168, to more comprehensively address interstate transportation of firearms or ammunition. My legislation allows individuals to securely transport a firearm or ammunition between two places (e.g., states) where it is legal to possess, carry, or transport a firearm, without fear of being harassed by an anti-second amendment city.

Health Care & Public Health

Americans need greater access to life-saving drugs. I have introduced legislation to ensure critical patient access to compounded medications when a drug is facing a shortage. The Patient Access to Urgent-Use Pharmacy Compounding Act, H.R.167, creates a regulatory pathway for certain compounding pharmacies to prepare medications for hospitals and physician offices if there’s an urgent need or the drug is in shortage.

The opioid crisis continues to devastate families across the country, made worse by fentanyl and its analogues. I’ve introduced the Halt All Lethal Trafficking of (HALT) Fentanyl Act, H.R.467, to address the permanent scheduling of fentanyl analogues, while also granting researchers the ability to conduct studies on these substances and provide for exemption of individual analogues when evidence demonstrates it is appropriate.

The COVID-19 pandemic taught us that we can no longer be reliant upon foreign suppliers for personal protective equipment (PPE). Our national security and public health demand that we have a stable domestic supply of this equipment. The Domestic SUPPLY Act, H.R. 170, would direct the federal government to establish a domestic supply of PPE, require eligible domestic manufacturers to be headquartered in the U.S., manufacture in the U.S. 100% of the products they would supply, and be majority owned and operated by American citizens.

Environment & Deregulation

In January, the Federal Register published the Biden Administration’s final Waters of the United States, or WOTUS, rule. This rule makes sweeping changes to the federal government’s authority to regulate what’s considered a navigable water, placing enormous burdens on small businesses, manufacturers, farmers, and private property owners. I have co-sponsored a House Joint Resolution, H.J.Res.27, to terminate the Biden WOTUS rulemaking through the Congressional Review Act (CRA), which provides a mechanism for Congress to overturn certain final agency actions.

Due to burdensome regulations from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the current New Source Review (NSR) program, originally meant to protect against pollution emissions from industrial facilities, discourages facilities from making upgrades that would ultimately lead to lower emissions. My New Source Review Permitting Improvement Act, H.R. 165, would reform these counterproductive rules so manufacturers, power plants, refiners, and others can make pollution-reducing upgrades to their facilities without running afoul of the EPA’s misguided interpretation.

Government Reform

Democrats have made recent attempts to make the District of Columbia our nation’s 51st state, saying residents are not properly represented. However, the Founders intended for our capitol to be on neutral ground, distinct and distinguished from the rest of the states. That’s why I introduced H.R.980 to retrocede D.C. to Maryland, returning the residential areas of D.C. to Maryland, while leaving the National Capitol Service Area, the National Mall and federal buildings like the Capitol, as the District of Columbia. Retrocession would give D.C. residents representation in the federal government, while maintaining an independent federal district to conduct the nation’s business.

There is still ample opportunity to introduce legislation to benefit the constituents of the Ninth District. If you’d like to provide feedback on the work we are doing or talk to us about legislation you’d like us to consider, each month my staff is available at various locations in the district, where constituents can receive help in person. Information on our traveling office hours is inside.

Foundational Principles

During the previous year, public school education has been a hot topic with differing opinions on whose values, type of curriculum and social ideology should be taught. One criticism is that public education has been dummed-down compared to previous generations of students. An example of this theory was presented by Christopher Hitchens in which he summarizes some facts. Fourth-grade students average age is 9 – 10 years old.

59 percent of 4th graders do not know why Pilgrims and Puritans first voyaged to America. 68 percent of 4th graders can’t name the first 13 colonies.

Several years ago, Lamar Alexander addressed this issue. According to him, the National Assessment of Education Progress reported that three-quarters of 4th, 8th and 12th graders are not proficient in civics knowledge, and one-third of them do not have basic knowledge, making one-third of our students “civic illiterates.”

Many of our Founders received what we would consider higher education at Harvard, Princeton or Yale which accepted students in their early teens. Some were accepted as early as 8-years old, but their parents deferred sending them until they reached 12-years. Students read through the Bible at an early age, memorized scripture to win contests, and were fluent in several languages before the age of 12. John Quincy Adams (when he was 11-years

Pay any price? Bear any burden?

By CAL THOMAS
Tribune Content Agency

“...we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and success of liberty.” – John F. Kennedy Inaugural Address Jan. 20, 1961

Those were simpler, though not less dangerous times. The Soviet Union was seen as America’s number one enemy. China had not begun to challenge its position as the world’s most powerful nation. Foreign policy then was mostly nonpartisan.

After a year of supporting Ukraine in its attempt to push back the Russian invasion and hold Vladimir Putin accountable for what Ukraine President Volodymyr Zelenskyy has charged are war crimes, it’s time to ask some hard questions.

First among them is, what is our goal? If it is not victory (and victory defined) what is it? Since America’s last victory in World War II, we have been engaged in either stalemates or defeat. First in Korea, which to this day is still called a conflict that ended in a draw, resulting in more than 33,000 American battle deaths.

Then there was Vietnam, where 58,220 U.S. soldiers perished. We lost that one to the communist North. People still argue over the reason.

Iraq for a time seemed more of a success, but its government remains shaky. “Only” 4,487 American troops were killed in that war. The earlier Operation Desert Storm was less a war than a quick invasion to roll back Iraqi troops from Kuwait. In battle, 154 military personnel were killed and 65 died from nonbattle causes.

Afghanistan, America’s longest war, saw more than 2,000 American service members killed. An additional 3,800 U.S. contractors lost their lives. Not only has the Taliban returned to rule, that war cost an estimated $2 trillion, in addition to the expense of military equipment left behind.

And now Ukraine. No U.S. troops have been sent there (yet), but again, what is our goal? Is it victory and if not, what is it? Putin is a dictator, not responsive to voters. Once again, it’s the United States that is bearing most of the financial burden in a war that is sapping resources we don’t have as our debt is now over $31 trillion and counting with interest piling on daily. President Biden has promised another $500 million in aid to Ukraine. Are there controls on this money? Will it be used for its intended purpose, or will it sink into the black hole that has been defined by the country’s history of corruption?

There are strong arguments in favor of continuing to help Ukraine push back against Putin, but those arguments become weak if our intentions are not made clear and our military aid continues to resemble an installment plan.

Former Joint Chiefs Chairman General Colin Powell viewed the purpose of the military – certainly ours and it could be argued Ukraine’s – as winning with overwhelming force. Former Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger shared Powell’s views in a 1984 speech in which Weinberger outlined what should be considered before American forces (and I would argue resources) are sent anywhere: “Vital national interests are at stake, the nation is prepared to commit enough forces to win, clear political and military objectives have been established, forces are sized to achieve those objectives, there is reasonable assurance of support of the American people and Congress.”

Most Members of Congress and a majority of the public continue to support Ukraine, though lately some bipartisan doubts have been raised along the lines I mentioned.

Where and when will it end? Putin clearly believes the U.S. will grow tired of the expense and draw back its support. President Biden has promised we will support Ukraine for “as long as it takes.”

The president should explain the goal and in the meantime ask European nations to step up their aid to Kyiv.

Attacks on Nikki Haley

Only in 21st-century America can you call yourself the “proud daughter of Indian immigrants” and get accused of whitewashing your background.

For the left, the verdict is in and has been for a long time -- Nikki Haley is not Indian American enough.

The offenses of the former South Carolina governor are myriad, from using an easily pronounceable name to converting to Christianity, to once checking “white” on a voter registration card, to touting the value of hard work in getting ahead, to defending America against charges of racism.

This has subjected her to ignorant, highly personal, racially charged attacks.

The NAACP activist (and pastor!) Talbert Swan tweeted that she said say her “real” name and asked if she’s too afraid of “white folks” to do it.

This is long-running criticism. When Haley came on an episode of “The View” last year, Sunny Hostin asked derisively, “What is her real name again?” Hostin, whose given name is Asuncion, called her a “chameleon” and remarked that it might be different “if she leaned into being someone of color.”

This is dumb and ill-informed. As a USA Today fact-check noted, Haley’s name at birth was Nimrata Nikki Randhawa. Rather than being a westernization, “Nikki” is a common nickname in Punjab, where her parents are from. She used the name Nikki since she was young, and then took the last name of her husband Michael Haley, in what is still the common practice in the U.S.

All that aside, the Hostin critique gets to the bottom of the real indictment of Haley from the race obsessives -- she’s not obsessed with race enough. Or, as “South Asian American experts” cited by NBC News put it, she has “an on-and-off relationship with their Indian identity.”

What does “on-and-off” mean except that, while expressing pride in her background, she doesn’t let it wholly define her? In what world is this not a healthy, well-adjusted attitude?

Was her announcement video, which did acknowledge the difficulties of growing up as an Indian American in the South Carolina of that time, supposed to be a screed about all the terrible things that have been done to her by the country her parents chose to come to?

The answer for her woke critics is basically “yes.” Again and again, critiques of Haley mention that she’s perpetuating the “model minority myth,” by which they mean she extols up-from-the-bootstraps hard work instead of painting a picture of immigrant futility in a fundamentally racist country.

The other charges against Haley are as meritless. She reportedly checked “white” on a voter registration card more than 20 years ago. Apparently, the card only offered the options of white, Black/African American, Asian, Hispanic, Native American or other. These categories, an unavoidable aspect of American life, are insanely reductive and imprecise. Asian is often taken to mean East Asian, not South Asian, and if Haley didn't want to "otherize" herself, she might have checked white as one of a number of not-accurate options.

Regardless, what's the allegation here? That she thought no one would find out about her Indian heritage if she checked a certain box on a card no one knew about?

Haley also converted to Christianity, which she has explained thoughtfully and sensitively. It's a feature of Christianity, not a bug, that it is open to all, from every

24th Virginia Regiment to begin 37th season

A new season of Civil War reenactments will begin April 28 when the Galax-based 24th Virginia Infantry Regiment journeys to Botetourt County to participate in the annual Battle of Buchanan weekend.

Living history events and several battles will fill the long weekend which will actually begin at the downtown Buchanan site Thursday, April 27, with the host artillery unit setting up cannon displays and school field trips that day. Members of the 24th Virginia will begin arriving in camp on Friday and will portray a Federal regiment, the 83rd Pennsylvania, all weekend.

The 24th Virginia held its annual dinner and meeting last Saturday (February 25) and planned for what should be a full and exciting year of living history events.

Prior to Buchanan, several members will present a special display March 25, 10 to 4, at the Salem Museum.

A living history and battle weekend will be held May 19-21 at Bost Grist Mill near Concord, NC, followed by the 160th anniversary Battle of Gettysburg, June 23-25; Battle of Dry Creek, White Sulphur Springs, WV, August 18-20; and the Battle of Marion, September

Then will come three straight weekends of events for the 24th Virginia including their biggest of the year which is also the closest event to Carroll County – the JEB Stuart Birthplace Encampment and Civil War weekend, October 6-8 in Ararat. This will be followed by the Battle of Droop Mountain, WV, October 13-15, and the Battle of Cedar Creek, October 20-22.

A Veterans Day parade in Roanoke will include several members of the 24th.

Events may be added to the schedule this year at the Shot Tower Historical Park near Fort Chiswell and Matthews Farm near Galax.

The 24th Virginia Infantry Regiment was formed in 1987 by a trio of living history enthusiasts – Mike Butler and Mike Moore of Galax and Donald Trausneck of Woodlawn – as an outgrowth of the Carroll-Wythe-Grayson Civil War Round Table. Their first official event was the 125th anniversary Battle of Shiloh.

Members voted at their latest annual meeting to retain all the same officers for the coming year. Field officers are Butler as Captain and David Gilmer as Sergeant. Corporate officers are Paul Huffman of Roanoke, President; Rich Sperazza of Bedford, Vice President; Betty Butler of Galax, secretary; Gilmer, treasurer; and Jordan Huffman of Roanoke, Quartermaster. Trausneck serves as Regimental Chaplain.

Variety of bills on way to the Governor

BY MADISON HIRNEISEN |

(The Center Square) – Virginia lawmakers in the General Assembly wrapped up a sprint of a 46-day session over the weekend, gaveling out after culling legislative proposals and forwarding off measures to the governor's desk.

Lawmakers in the politically-divided General Assembly spent weeks this session discussing and debating myriad issues ranging from regulations for electric utilities to proposed tax cuts. While the session was marked by contentious debates on several headline issues, including guns and abortion, lawmakers did find bipartisan consensus on a range of issues.

According to Lt. Gov. Winsome Sears' office, the General Assembly passed 1,687 bills out of the 2,863 introduced. Here's a look at a few of the bills sent to Youngkin's desk this legislative session.

REGULATIONS ON HEMP PRODUCTS

Lawmakers in both the House and Senate voted in favor of a bill that will set tighter regulations on sales of hemp-derived products, which include THC – the main psychoactive chemical from the cannabis plant that gives users the feeling of "high."

The bill specifically outlines that anyone who manufactures or sells an "industrial hemp extract" or food containing an industrial hemp extract must obtain a permit from the state. Additionally, the bill limits those products to containing up to 0.3% THC and no more than 2 milligrams per package. A person could be fined up to $10,000 per day for violations.

The proposal also lays out specific labeling and packaging requirements for products or food containing an "industrial hemp extract," including that the ingredients contained in the product are "in a font no less than 1/16th of an inch."

The bill does not move the state closer to establishing a retail market for sales of marijuana. While marijuana was legalized in Virginia in 2021, the state still has yet to set up a retail framework for legal sales.

Proponents of the bill to regulate hemp products argued it is a key step to regulating the industrial hemp market and protecting Virginians – particularly children and teens. The bill was introduced following reports of children becoming sick after eating gummies without knowing they were infused with Delta-8 THC.

"I would emphasize that this is an important bill in that we are witnessing a proliferation of these products – primarily these hemp-derived products that are synthetic in nature – that are

PET OF THE WEEK

Cooper is a red pit bull mix, is our longest residence at the shelter. He came in as a stray back Oct. 2021. That's nearly 500 days that he's lived in the shelter! He'd love to move out of the shelter and into a loving home of his own. He is dog selective but also loves to play with dogs he does get along with. If you are interested in any of the animals here at the shelter, please submit an adoption application located on our Facebook Page-Pulaski County VA Animal Control.

Lessons learned from the ‘One Bag Challenge’

By WILLIAM PAINE
The Patriot

The weather on the last Wednesday of February, 2023 turned out to be unseasonably warm with temps in the 60’s. This spate of fair weather prompted Gina Paine, my wife, to strongly suggest that we take up Pulaski County’s One Bag Challenge, which asks the citizenry to pick up at least one bag of roadside litter for the betterment of the community.

I couldn’t think of a legitimate excuse for not wanting to spend my afternoon picking up other people’s trash, A.K.A, “Giving back to the Community,” and so I agreed to help.

As I looked for my heavy leather gloves, I told myself that I’d done this before, but that wasn’t exactly true. I’d written articles about people picking up trash for volunteer organizations, but I hadn’t actually done the work. I soon realized, there’s a big difference between shooting photos of people picking up trash and actually picking up hundreds of pieces of refuse and stuffing them in a huge orange bag.

Gina picked up those orange trash bags, dayglo vests and gloves from the county administration building that morning. The county also provided trigger operated pincer devices, which turned out to be invaluable for reaching into the deep brush and more important still, for eliminating the necessity of bending over when picking up trash off the roadside.

Gina and I do our share of volunteer work, but we’d never actually committed to cleaning up a section of highway, so it was a learning experience for both of us.

We figured we’d clean up Wilderness Road between State Park Road and Newbern Road, which is just about a two-mile stretch. We figured we’d need about 10 bags.

Looking back, we were comically ambitious in our goals. The first thing we learned was that the amount of trash along the roadside increases exponentially, the closer one gets to the roadside. In other words, there is way more trash along the roadside than we noticed from the window of our car while travelling 40 miles per hour.

Sure, there’s lots of stuff right next to the roadway, but there’s even more bottles, plastic bags, paper cups and soda cans 10 to 15 feet off to the side of the road and it’s inevitably surrounded by briars. I didn’t envision myself clawing through dense underbrush to retrieve a can of Bud Light from underneath a thorn bush, but if we were going to “adopt” this piece of roadway, we couldn’t just leave it there.

It was here that my wife learned that wearing spandex pants was less than ideal when delving deep into a briar patch. Gina relayed this information to me in no uncertain terms, though it was I who suggested she wear a pair of jeans for our afternoon outing.

So more often than not, you’re going to fight through the brambles to grab that shiny can with your county provided pincer ... even if the carcass of a dead deer lays nearby.

There’s another thing we learned. When picking up trash along a rural roadway, expect to find some dead things. During our cleaning endeavor, we stumbled upon one highly decomposed deer carcass, the remains of a fawn which still retained its fur and the lower part of a deer’s leg which lay isolated from its other parts on the side of the road.

We picked up a lot of stuff, but I drew the line at bagging deer parts. What we did pick up included lots of cans and bottles of cheap beer, which I was expecting. Afterall, the last thing someone wants in their car is a bunch of empty beer bottles, especially if that someone played a major role in emptying those beer bottles a few minutes prior.

What is the Litter Bug’s drink of choice? It would have to be Johny Bootlegger, a malt beverage that comes in a dizzying variety of fruity flavors. We must have picked up a hundred Johny Bootlegger bottles along that short stretch of Wilderness Road.

In fact, if you ever see someone buying a bottle of Johny Bootlegger, you might tell them there’s a new invention called a trash can that they should maybe check out.

Beyond the booze there were scads of paper cups complete with plastic caps and straws, Styrofoam plates, plastic bags and about a billion cigarette butts.

Something else we learned is that you can’t get everything, especially as it relates to cigarette butts. They are endless and after picking up about 60 with my county issued pincer, I figured my time was better spent going after the bigger stuff.

Gina Paine, my wife, thought so, too. At about the two-hour mark, Gina spotted an abandoned toilet that had been tossed over the bank and into a patch of brambles. She decided right then and there that we would retrieve that broken piece of porcelain and offer it to the county, along with our other bags of trash. To be more precise, she determined that I would descend the embankment and drag that toilet bowl back to the road, while she recorded the action on her phone.

I refused because I didn’t sign up for toilet duty.

Then she explained how collecting this broken piece of porcelain would be the crowning achievement of our One Bag Challenge experience, so ...

I used a machete we found an hour earlier (Bonus!) to cut through the brambles and scurry down the embankment to reach the orphaned bathroom fixture. After a couple of false starts, I managed to haul the toilet out of the ravine and onto the shoulder of this section of Wilderness Road. Granted, it was so far down the bank that it was probably not seen by passersby but, well, we couldn’t just leave it there ... or maybe we could have. Well, anyway, we didn’t.

In the end, the wife and I ended up cleaning the trash along Wilderness Road between the Newbern Road intersection and the Interstate Construction business, which is about 1/10th of a mile. We packed

William Paine/The Patriot

Gina Paine with machete and Trophy Toilet

10 big orange bags full of garbage and we liberated a toilet from the forest, all of which took us a little over three hours.

We also found a machete ... which we will keep for future roadside endeavors.

All of this proves that cleaning up roadside litter can be educational, and we can only hope that lessons learned from our experience will be helpful to others who choose to accept Pulaski County’s One Bag Challenge!

Bills

causing tremendous amounts of increase in emergency hospital visits, particularly from children, from ingesting these edibles,” Sen. Emmett Hanger, R-Augusta, said Friday in support of the measure.

Lawmakers who voted against the measure raised concern about the regulatory structure of the bill, particularly when it came to the departments with authority over regulations. Speaking in opposition to the bill, Sen. Scott Surrovell noted that under the legislation, the Cannabis Control Authority will be regulating marijuana and the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services regulating Delta-8 “even though they have the identical effect on human beings.”

“This is a first step towards a complete mess. That’s what this is,” Surrovell said Friday. “This is like saying we’re going to have ABC regulate liquor and we’re going to have the Department of Health regulate beer.”

Surrovell and a few other Democratic lawmakers raised concern they will have to “undo” the code language in coming legislative sessions.

The bill ultimately passed out of the House in a 85-9 vote and the Senate in a 23-17 vote.

JURY DUTY PAY

On the second-to-last day of the legislative session, lawmakers in both the House and Senate voted to pass measures that will increase Virginia’s per-day jury duty pay from $30 to $50.

Two bills originating in the House and Senate – SB 789 and HB 2317 – initially proposed raising jury duty pay to $100 per day when first introduced, which would have likely made Virginia’s per-day jury pay the highest in the nation. Lawmakers ultimately settled on a $50 per day rate, which puts Virginia in line with a handful of other states who pay this rate as the maximum compensation, according to an analysis by the National Center for State Courts.

Del. Angelia Williams-Graves, D-Norfolk, told The Center Square the compromise on the measures ultimately came down to funding in the budget. The delegate said even though $50 per day jury duty pay “does not keep up with inflation,” it’s “much better” than the current rate.

“Thirty dollars is just unbelievably low,” Williams-Graves said. “We want people to do their civic duty, but we also don’t want to cause any financial harm for doing it.”

“The increase to $50 is not what we wanted, but it was a major move in the right direction to help to make it just a little bit more bearable for jury duty service,” the delegate later added.

Williams-Graves said in the future she would like to see future increases to Virginia’s jury duty pay, noting the ideal situation would be tying the pay to an annual increase.

TAX CREDIT FOR GUN SAFETY PURCHASE

While most gun-related measures proposed during the legislative session were defeated, one measure in particular received bipartisan support.

House Bill 2387 by Del. Alfonso Lopez, D-Arlington, establishes a nonrefundable income tax credit of up to $300 for taxable years 2023 through 2027 for individuals who purchase firearm safety devices, like gun safes or lock boxes. The bill was supported by both the National Rifle Association and gun safety groups like Everytown for Gun Safety and Giffords.

Teach Me Your Word O Lord

Terry McCraw

Mary and Martha

Mary, Martha and Lazarus were three Siblings. Two sisters and a brother who developed a close relationship with Jesus. So close, Jesus often stayed at their home in the town of Bethany, near Jerusalem.

Luke 10:38. “Now it came to pass, as they went, that He entered into a small village: and a certain woman named Martha received Him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus’ feet, and heard His word.”

Jesus observed a problem gnawing at Martha. We was losing patience with Mary over a hospitality issue.

Sometimes, in order to maintain peace, we have to cut a little slack to those who are not doing things to our liking. Martha was not so inclined. She was angry with her sister Mary, and just about ready to put a “Help Wanted Sign” on the kitchen door. Her patience was wearing thin.

In the Eastern Culture, hospitality was a thing expected. So when the guests were to be entertained and fed, it called for much effort on the part of the Host. Jesus and his Disciples were guests and Martha was very busy being a Hostess.

Martha’s sister, Mary, joined the crowd gathered around Jesus, and sat at His feet, drinking is every word that He said, leaving Martha alone in the kitchen.

It was not that Mary intentionally left all the work for Martha to do. She was so enthralled with the presence of Jesus, and so hungry to hear His exposition of the word of God, that she forgot about everything else except feeding on the word of God being delivered by Jesus.

When the truth is going forth, we want and need to hear it! So we can’t blame Mary for choosing to hear the important words of the Master. But Martha did, because she needed help in the Kitchen.

I imagine she was thinking or saying to herself, “That lazy sister of mine is just going to set in there all day and let me do all the work.”

Verse 40. “But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to Him and said, “Lord, dost Thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? Bid her therefore that she help me.” And Jesus answered and said unto her, “Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: But one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.”

Martha was busy, majoring on the minors. What she needed more than to be perceived as a gracious host, was to soak up the gracious words of the Son of God. She should have let dinner wait. No one was as hungry for food and drink as they were to spend quality time with the Master.

What Martha didn’t take into account was that the meal wasn’t the most important thing that day. The more important thing was that the word of God was being delivered by the living word of the living God.

Jesus understood her complaint but instead of doing what she asked, He used it to teach Martha a great spiritual lesson. He answered her thusly, “Martha, Martha.” I believe He said her name in a loving, tender way. “Martha. Martha, thou art careful and troubled over many things.”

Many times, we get too busy to spend quality time with Jesus. “Oh I would go to the Revival this evening, but I’ve got all of this work to do at home.” Or, “I would go to prayer meeting but it conflicts with my workout schedule at the fitness center.”

Our spirituality sometimes gets low because we have been too busy to spend time with Jesus. Too busy to read and study God's word. We only have so much time in a day, so it is imperative that we prioritize, to make sure we do which is needful. It seems we have time for everything else, why not for the word of God?

Jesus understood her irritation at being the only one who seemed to care about being a good Host. He didn't rebuke her for what she was doing. But what he did do was to tenderly help her to see herself as she really was. She was too busy to get her soul fed with the word of God.

This was no ordinary Guest. This was Jesus, the Son of God. The Logos. The word of God in the person of Jesus Christ. Spending time with Him should have come before anything and everything else.

Instead of putting all else aside, and listening to the greatest Teacher Who ever lived, she chose to cook a meal. It was a missed opportunity for her. She chose to work in the Kitchen, while Mary chose to work on her Relationship with Christ Jesus!

Most start out well in serving the Lord. At first Jesus is the most important thing in their lives. But then, as time goes by, they find themselves getting caught up in their work and play, and sometimes the work and play becomes more important than spending time with the Master.

There is nothing more important than spending time with the Lord, eating from the bread of life, and drinking from the water of life, found only in Jesus Christ, our Blessed Lord.

Jesus counted the earnest seeking of His followers for spiritual fellowship with Him, as being much more important than any other seeking that they could do.

The Psalmist said so eloquently in Psalm 27:4. “One thing have I desired of the Lord, that I will seek: that I may dwell in the house of the Lord.

Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in His temple.”

Mary desired the best part. The best part was being with Jesus, and feasting on the word of God.

From the writings of the Rev. Billy Graham
Q: No wonder Christmas is a more favored holiday than Easter. Christmas speaks of a new life [the infant Jesus] that brought joy. Easter brings thoughts of death [His gruesome death], yet there is the new life found in resurrection, which is curious. What does the Bible verse mean when it says that death is swallowed up in victory? — B.I.

A: Think about the holes children make when they dig in the sand on the seashore. When the waves come in, the holes are swallowed up by the ocean. Similarly, when we know Christ, our physical death is overwhelmed by the love and grace of God. Death is swallowed up in the victory of Christ. Death is an incident, not an end. It is a transition for a Christian, not a terminus.

In death, we are freed from all that burdens us here. We lay aside the outward “tent” of our body, and we inherit a building from God, “a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens” (2 Corinthians 5:1). Here our lives are filled with suffering and confusion. We experience pain and problems, and sometimes life seems to have no meaning or purpose. But the resurrection of Jesus Christ changed all that. It gives purpose and meaning to life, and life's greatest joy comes from discovering His will and fulfilling it. His resurrection also gives us hope — hope right now, and hope beyond the grave.

Only the Lord has conquered death and made it a source of freedom where it once brought only fear. Because of Christ, we can approach life and death with hope, knowing that greater things await those who know Him as personal Lord and blessed Savior. The Bible says that if we seek Him, we will find Him. “You will seek Me and find Me, when you search for Me with all of your heart” (Jeremiah 29:13).

2023 Cougar football schedule released

From Pulaski County Schools

Cougar Football Head Coach Cam Akers has released the full varsity schedule for the upcoming 2023 season, and a few notable changes stand out immediately.

The season will start with two preseason matchups. First, the Cougars will host Franklin County August 11. This will be a controlled scrimmage with coaches working with players on the field. The following week, Pulaski County will welcome the Radford Bobcats for a benefit game. This will be closer to a game situation. The regular season will begin Friday, August 25, when the Cougars travel to Northside High School to face the Vikings. That will immediately be followed by an open week September 1.

The road trip to start the season will continue September 8 when the Cougars go to Daleville to take on the Lord Botetourt Cavaliers. Pulaski County will travel to Princeton, WV, September 15 to take on former Cougar assistant coach Keith Taylor, who is now the Tiger Head Coach.

Pulaski County returns home September 22 for a matchup with the Christiansburg Blue Demons. The following week the Cougars will be in Roanoke to play Patrick Henry.

Salem will visit Kenneth J. Dobson Stadium October 6. That game will be followed by a road trip to Montgomery County to face the Blacksburg Bruins October 13. The Cougars will host the Graham

G-Men October 20.

The final two games of the regular season will feature an away game against Hidden Valley October 27 and a home game with Cave Spring November 3.

"We think this is a very competitive schedule and should give us a great chance to see just where we stand," Coach Akers said. "It's unfortunate that we'll only have four regular season home games this season, but that means next year we'll have six, so it all works out in the end. With the move to Class 3, there will be some new challenges. We'll be in the same region as some familiar faces and a few we haven't played in a while. Our guys have been working hard in the weight room and we're excited to see how our upcoming season plays out."

The new realignment plan will move Pulaski County from Class 4, Region D, to the newly restructured Class 3, Region D with 13 total teams. Those teams include Abingdon, Bassett, Carroll County, Cave Spring, Christiansburg, Hidden Valley, Lord Botetourt, Magna Vista, Northside, Pulaski County, Staunton River, Tunstall and William Byrd.

Schedules for the junior varsity and middle school teams will be released closer to the season.

PCHS STATE TOURNEY BOUND

Pulaski County hosts Sherando tonight in C'burg

Patriot Staff Report

It's on to the State Tournament for the Pulaski County Lady Cougars, who last week claimed their fourth straight region title.

Pulaski County will face Sherando tonight (March 3) at Christiansburg High School in the quarterfinals of the Virginia High School League Tournament. Gametime is 7 p.m.

Pulaski County won the Class 4 Region D crown on the road last Friday by beating old rival Louisa County, 66-52.

Paige Huff led the Lady Cougars with a big night, scoring 26 points. Keslyn Secrist added 22 in the victory.

Also scoring were Hannah Keefer with 10 points, Tori Vest with 4 and both Jaden Lawson and Kenzlee Jones with 2.

According to PCHS Athletic Director Scott Vest, tickets for the GoFan can be purchased through GoFan only and no cash or credit/debit card sales will be allowed at the gate.

Here is a link to the GoFan site is: <https://gofan.co/app/events/917846?schoolId=VHSL>

Pulaski County's opponent Friday, Sherando, is no stranger to the Lady Cougars. PCHS beat Sherando—out of Stephens City, Va.—last year, 54-44 in the quarter-finals of the state tournament.

Brian Bishop/The Patriot

Morgan Vest goes in for a layup against Salem earlier this season, while her sister Tori Vest looks on.

The two teams have had one common opponent this year in Millbrook. Pulaski County defeated Millbrook this season, while Sherando split two close games.

According to the MaxPreps sports service computer rankings, Pulaski County is currently ranked

No. 1 in Class 4, while Sherando is sitting at No. 5.

The Pulaski County – Sherando winner will move on to face the winner of Louisa County (No. 9) vs. Tuscarora (No. 4), who also play Friday, in the state semi-finals next week.

In an earlier contest of note, Tuscarora – also of Leesburg – defeated Sherando, 43-29.

The winner of that semi-final contest will then advance to the state championship game against one of these four: Matoaca, Hampton, Hanover or last season's champion, King's Fork.

Late push gives VT win over Cardinals

Hokiesports.com

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — After trading blows for over 30 minutes, Virginia Tech closed out Tuesday night's contest on a 21-7 run to down Louisville, 71-54.

With their win, the Hokies (17-13, 7-12) snapped a nine-game losing streak at Louisville that dated back to Jan. 30, 1991.

Justyn Mutts was the man of the night for Tech, notching his eighth double-double of the season with 13 points and 12 rebounds. He entered the night needing just six rebounds to achieve 1,000 career boards. Mutts became the second active player (Ahsan Asadullah of Lipscomb) in Division I men's basketball to reach 1,500 points, 1,000 rebounds and 400 assists in his career.

Busch gets milestone NASCAR Cup victory in Fontana finale

By REID SPENCER
NASCAR Wire Service

FONTANA, Calif. – The Kyle Busch era at Richard Childress Racing began three weeks ago at the Los Angeles Coliseum, but the coronation was reserved for Sunday’s Pala Casino 400 in the last NASCAR Cup Series race at 2.0-mile Auto Club Speedway.

Busch grabbed the lead from Ross Chastain on Lap 165 and re-gained it on Lap 180 at the end of a cycle of green-flag pit stops, as the race ran under green for the final 55 laps. He crossed the finish line on Lap 200 with a 2.998-second advantage over runner-up Chase Elliott.

The victory was the 61st of Busch’s career, most among active drivers and ninth all-time. For the 19th straight season, Busch has won at least one NASCAR Cup Series race, breaking a tie with seven-time champion Richard Petty for the series record.

Kyle and Kurt Busch now hold the record for most combined Cup victories by brothers with 95, one more than the total accumulated by Bobby and Donnie Allison.

Coincidentally, Busch claimed the first Cup win of his career at Auto Club, the bulk of whose property was recently sold—with plans to replace the 2.0-mile speedway with a half-mile short track.

Busch’s victory at Auto Club came in his second start in the No. 8 Chevrolet for RCR, the team he joined after 15 seasons and two series championships with Joe Gibbs Racing.

“I can’t thank Richard and Judy (Childress) enough, Austin (Dillon) for calling me and getting me talking and getting me the opportunity to come over here to RCR,” said Busch, who had to overcome a pit road speeding penalty under caution on Lap 43.

“The guys did a great job. (Crew chief) Randall (Burnett)—everybody that worked so hard in the off-season. We did a lot of sim stuff, a lot of testing in general, just trying to get up to speed. There is nothing more rewarding than being able to go to Victory Lane...”

“You put yourself in a different situation and you’re able to reward your guys. It’s not about me always winning, but about the guys. I’ve worked with a lot of great people who’ve given me a lot of great opportunities in my career. It’s awesome to be able to reward them.”

With qualifying rained out on Saturday, Elliott started 31st according to a metric formula based on owner points and performance in the previous race (the DAYTONA 500). Throughout the race, Elliott’s crew made the No. 9 Chevrolet better. By race’s end, it was competitive with the fastest cars in the field.

“Yeah, just really proud of our team,” Elliott said. “We obviously didn’t run very good there toward the end of the year last year, and just everybody really went to work hard over the winter to try and get better...”

“Obviously, I think we still have some work to do, but it was really nice to just see a lot of that hard work pay off and have the car driving like we were wanting it to do. So that’s always a good thing...”

Hokies

Grant Basile led the Hokies in scoring with 18 points while adding seven rebounds. Hunter Cattoor put up 11 and Sean Pedulla tacked on 10 points to join Basile and Mutts in double figures.

Virginia Tech’s defense was sound beyond the arc, as Louisville was restricted to only 14.3% shooting from deep.

On the offensive end, the Hokies tied their season-low with five turnovers, while pulling down a season-high 18 offensive boards.

El Ellis and Mike James each contributed 14 points for the Cardinals (4-26, 2-17).

How It Happened

After falling behind 8-6, Virginia Tech went on an 8-0 run with 13:20 left in the first half to take a 14-8 lead. The Hokies then added two points to that lead by the end of the period and entered halftime with a 35-27 advantage. Virginia Tech capitalized on seven Louisville turnovers in the period, turning them into nine points on the other end of the floor.

Virginia Tech kept its lead intact before going on a 14-0 run, finished off by Sean Pedulla’s three, to grow the lead to 62-47 with 4:29 to go in the contest.

The Hokies kept expanding the margin and coasted the rest of the way for the 71-54 win. Virginia Tech shot well from three-point range in the half, hitting six shots from deep to score 18 of its 36 points.

Game Notes

- » Justyn Mutts notched a double-double for the Hokies with 13 points and 12 rebounds.
- » Virginia Tech never trailed in the second half on its way to victory.
- » Virginia Tech recorded 16 total assists in the game.
- » Virginia Tech had a 39-38 edge on the boards in the win.
- » Virginia Tech turned the ball over five times while dish-ing out 16 assists.
- » Virginia Tech cleaned up on the offensive glass, collecting a season-high 18 offensive boards in the game.

Teacher of the Month

Pulaski County Schools photos

Pulaski County Public Schools and Pulaski County High School CTE Center are pleased to honor Laura Norris as Teacher of the Month. In addition to traditional classroom instruction, Mrs. Norris also teaches Health Department regulations for serving food, OSHA guidelines for kitchen safety, the ServSafe Manager Certification curriculum, and basic customer service skills. She works to build and maintain relationships in the Culinary Industry which results in her students being able to cater various events. The Culinary Arts program has cooked for the Pulaski County Chamber of Commerce, Volvo North America, various international companies touring the county on Economic Development visits, a state legislator, and a previous Governor. Participants at each of her events, complement Mrs. Norris on the quality of food served, as well as the professionalism of her students during the event. Whether her students go on to a career in the Hospitality Industry or just pick up cooking skills to provide meals at home, there's no question that her students leave her class ready for life after high school. She is a true team player. One of her colleagues said, "Laura always has a smile and welcomes anyone into her classroom for any reason. She has been helpful when I have questions, being I am new to PCHS this year." The faculty, staff, and students are lucky to work with Mrs. Norris. For all the reasons stated above, we are proud to recognize her as the CTE Center's Teacher of the month for February 2023.

Employee of the Month

Pulaski County Public Schools and Pulaski County High School CTE Center are proud to recognize our Employee of the Month, Kathy Pakkiddis. As the ITRT that supports secondary teachers, Kathy is instrumental in helping CTE teachers develop virtual tools for instruction. She ensures grade books are set up properly, responds to teachers' and administrators' calls when various technology is not working, and assists the division during end-of-course testing. The colleagues that nominated her had this to say, "Kathy is always helpful in a timely manner. I can ask the same question more than once and she is always pleasant, patient, and professional." Another colleague said, "I feel like Kathy has battled through rough days with a smile. She is always willing and ready to assist when called." With so many technology-based tools used in instruction, Ms. Pakkiddis is a valued member of our team. We are grateful for her service and want to congratulate her on being recognized as the CTE Center's Employee of the Month for February 2023.

Busch

"Congratulations to Kyle. For him to leave and then to go get the job done like that is pretty cool. He's always been really good to me, so happy for them and looking forward to getting to Vegas and hopefully competing for some more wins."

Chastain led a race-high 91 laps to Busch's 27 and finished third after sweeping the first two stages, the second by 6.673 seconds. Chastain's Trackhouse Racing teammate, Daniel Suárez ran fourth, followed by Kevin Harvick. Denny Hamlin, Brad Keselowski, Alex Bowman, Austin Dillon and Joey Logano completed the top 10.

A multistar accident during a restart on Lap 86 eliminated polesitter Christopher Bell, as well as Ryan Preece, Aric Almirola and Tyler Reddick. Ryan Blaney, who ran at or near the front of the field in Stage 1, sustained heavy damage to his No. 12 Ford during the wreck and finished 26th.

Senior of the Month

Pulaski County Public Schools and Pulaski County High School are pleased to recognize Austin Michael McGuire as Senior of the Month for February. Austin is the son of Jason and Rachel McGuire. Austin's nominating teacher stated that "Austin is a natural leader and always contributes thoughtfully to class discussions. He is passionate about becoming a teacher in Pulaski County after college. The way he builds relationships with all of the other students in our class and throughout the high school will serve him well as a future educator. His dynamic personality and ability to include witty humor into all of our class activities will make him an engaging and motivating teacher."

While at PCHS, Austin has been heavily involved in theater arts. He enjoys acting and performing even during his free time. Upon graduation, Austin will attend Liberty University pursuing a teaching degree in social sciences.

It'd be a lot easier that way, and you'd avoid the chance of hard feelings between you and your relatives down the road. Don't get me wrong, your uncle sounds like a kind and generous man. He's trying to be a blessing to all three of you, but it has a very real possibility of causing unintended problems he may not see coming.
That's the way I'd handle it, Dave. A couple of acres of dirt split between three people isn't
